

WEEKLY

April 29-May 3 update

WHAT WE ARE LEARNING

Our 5 paragraph biography essays are due this week. We worked really hard last week to piece together the final pieces of their essays, but we will need this work to really focus in. We are also taking our Reading NWEA this Wednesday. I am so excited to see how they have grown!

We are getting familiar and comfortable with fractions! This week we will be learning about fractions on a number line, equivalent fractions (these are SO tricky), fractions as one whole, and work on comparing fractions. The test date is Tuesday, May 7th.

We are jumping back to social studies! This unit is going to go over the purpose of government and what our government looks like in Michigan. We will continue to research specific people in our government and learn all about how we are represented! This week, we are talking about the branches and levels of government.

This week in Religion we are continuing to learn about the sacraments of initiation and as well as healing and forgiveness. This week specifically we are focusing on the Eucharist, Mass, and the sacrament of Anointing of the Sick. You can find the newsletter attached in this week's email.

REMINDERS

NWEA is this week and next! Please make sure your student is well rested and eats a good breakfast to stay prepared!

April and May can be rainy months! Make sure your students have extra shoes or rain boots if the ground is still wet.

Our Biography essays are due this week. Keep an eye out for any extra homework.

I am planning a Market Day Project for our final Social Studies Unit, more info to come.
