

WEEKLY

update

November 27- December 1

I hope you all had a fantastic Thanksgiving break!

One thing we are really working hard on all around right now is always turning in our best work. Whether it be handwriting, reading, spelling, math, or religion, I want students to know that they should be proud of their work!

They work so hard, I want to celebrate that!

My goal for each student this week is to receive a piece of "Happy Mail" to take home. I'll let them explain that celebration when they get one!

WHAT WE ARE LEARNING

We are taking a break from the usual format of our Wonders textbook in order to deeper study poetry. We will build an interactive notebook studying different types of poetry and create our own book of poems. We will also study figurative language and apply that to our writing. With this comes a break from spelling. In the month of December we will focus more on phonics in class and pick spelling back up after Christmas. This change will begin after Thanksgiving.

Our unit on understanding division begins this week. We will compare what we know about multiplication with division before we begin learning how to multiply and divide by specific factors!

Back to Social Studies we are! We are beginning our longest unit of the year: Michigan History. This is such a fun unit where we really explore the history of our state and how we came to be! We will hang out in this unit through January!

We are also learning about Jesus sharing the Kingdom of God with us through parables. See the newsletter in this weeks email.
